Trusts and Associations for Gardens: goals and strategies In this colloquium, we gather experts who have succeeded and are committed to make gardens a good place on Earth and to help “gardenists” improve, defend and enjoy their gardens and those of their countries as a common heritage made both by Man and by Nature.

Philip White, founder and chief executive of the Hestercombe Gardens Trust and a member of the executive committee of the Institute of Garden and Landscape. Hestercombe has come a long way over the last two decades and, largely thanks to Philip White, it is now firmly on the map as one of Britain’s most important historical gardens. In 2013 Philip White was honoured with the MBE for ‘services to historic garden restoration’. He is also involved in the Parks & Gardens UK database.
